ARIZONA ENTITLED TO STATEHOOD BY HERSELF

NATIONAL COMMITTEEMAN BEN CRAWFORD SAYS THE PRESENT IS OPPORTUNE TIME

GIVES MANY REASONS WHY THE TERRITORY SHOULD BE ADMITTED TO UNION

Developing Rapidly—Population Good, Clean, Intelligent, Progressive and Pushing, and the People Have Demonstrated Their Ability.

"Arizona is justly entitled to statehood for herself. The time has never been more opportune than it is at present."

This is the statement of Hon. Ben M. Crawford, democratic national committeeman for Arizona, made in Tucson recently. Mr. Crawford had been asked for his opinion of the reported statement of Governor Kibbey in Los Angeles to the effect that Arizona is not at present fully ripe for statehood. "I can see no valid objection to statehood," he remarked. "Arizona is developing rapidly. Its population—good, clean, intelligent, progressive and pushing citizens—is rapidly increasing. Its mineral resources are being developed on a big scale and in this line it is rapidly forging to the front. It has demonstrated that it is well able to handle its own affairs and in all justice statehood for this territory should not be longer delayed."

Mr. Crawford is not pessimistic over the present slump in the price of copper. "I believe that when matters are finally settled copper will bring 18 cents, which will likely be a standard price," he said. "At that price ore can be mined at a good profit even though it is of low grade."

Mr. Crawford stated that the Clifton and Morenci districts are moving along just as though there had been no change at all in the price of copper.

Mr. Crawford in commenting on reports of aspirants for the position of delegate to congress, stated that he was strongly of the opinion that Delegate Mark Smith is the only logical candidate to succeed himself.
